Happy New Year to NCED users and providers!

We updated the National Conservation Easement Database in December 2019, so be sure to download the latest version if you haven't already.

We are starting to collect easement information for the 2020 NCED release. For land trusts, click here to learn how to add or update your easement information. You can email your data to jes.skillman@ducks.org. For public agencies, please contact almanac@tpl.org

National Conservation Easement Database in the news

Deal reached to make entire length of Zion Narrows permanently open to the public

Why Isn't Publicly Funded Conservation on Private Land More Accountable?

Lyme Provides Model Amid State Struggle to Manage Conservation Easements

Senate subpoenas shine spotlight on conservation easements

Private organizations, public data: Land trust choices about mapping conservation easements

Sincerely,
The NCED team